LUMBERKOTE™ POLYMER SEALANT

Enhance and Protect Your Projects with Lumberkote: The Ultimate Solution for Wood Preservation

Lumberkote is a specialized coating designed for contractors who demand exceptional protection for wood in crawlspaces, structural framing, and subfloor lumber. As a cutting-edge alternative to traditional encapsulation, Lumberkote offers a cost-effective, easy-to-apply solution that enhances the durability and longevity of your projects.

KEY FEATURES

- Advanced Moisture Barrier: LumberKote provides a robust defense against moisture intrusion, significantly reducing the risk of mold, mildew, and wood decay.
- Extended Durability: Engineered for long-lasting performance, Lumberkote ensures that wood remains protected for years, even in the most challenging environments.
- Cost-Efficient Alternative: LumberKote replaces the need for full encapsulation, offering a streamlined, effective solution that saves time and resources while maintaining high standards of protection.
- Contractor-Friendly Application: Designed with contractors in mind, LumberKote applies easily with standard equipment, ensuring quick and consistent coverage, allowing you to complete projects efficiently and effectively.
- Eco-Conscious Formula: LumberKote's water-based, low-VOC composition aligns with environmentally responsible practices, providing a safe, green solution for your clients' wood protection needs.

PRODUCT SPECIFICATIONS

- Part Number: LK5G
- Packaging: Lumberkote is available in 5-gallon buckets.
- Coverage: Each 5-gallon bucket covers up to 2,500 square feet.

DESIGNED FOR PROFESSIONAL APPLICATION

Lumberkote is the ideal choice for contractors specializing in crawlspace, structural framing, and subfloor projects, delivering unparalleled protection against moisture and decay. Whether you're working on new construction or retrofitting an existing structure, Lumberkote enhances the quality and durability of your work.

WHY CONTRACTORS CHOOSE LUMBERKOTE

Lumberkote is more than just a product—it's a professional-grade solution that redefines wood protection in crawlspaces, framing, and subflooring. By integrating Lumberkote into your projects, you provide your clients with a superior alternative to encapsulation, ensuring lasting satisfaction and peace of mind.
